THE OCCURRENCE OF WURTZITE POLYTYPES IN EASTERN OHIO: ERRATUM

D.W. HOLLENBAUGH
3960 Hilltop Drive, Parma, Ohio 44134, U.S.A.

E.H. CARLSON
Department of Geology, Kent State University, Kent, Ohio 44242, U.S.A.

In the abstract, the third sentence, slightly modified in the final stage of manuscript preparation, now conveys the erroneous impression that the Vanport Limestone is 70 m thick. This sentence should read: “The stratigraphic range of wurtzite now includes about 70 m of strata from the Vanport Limestone (Allegheny Group) through the Brush Creek Shale (Conemaugh Group).” The editor apologizes for this faux pas.