The following material is being provided for research purposes. The recipient agrees to return studied fragments (including thin and polished sections, and mounted crystals), as well as unstudied portions of the material provided within twelve months of date of shipment; an extension may be requested. Wherever possible, the returned studied materials should be individually marked so as to be clearly linked to corresponding analytical data. The recipient agrees to acknowledge the loan in resulting publications; ROM catalog number should appear in sample descriptions and with analytical data. The recipient is encouraged to provide a copy of resulting publications, as well as unpublished data obtained from our material (state duration of confidentiality, if any).
